Salem Congregation
Boonsboro, Arks.

On the 13th day of September A.D. 1868, the Session of Salem Congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church passed the following preamble and resolution.

Whereas the records of this congregation were destroyed by the ravages of the late war, ordered therefore that the clerk of the session procure a book and record a constitution subject to the signatures of all the members of said congregation, and also the minutes of the meetings of the session held since the war.

In pursuance of the above order, we the undersigned members of the Salem Congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church do adopt and subscribe the following Constitution.

Being desirous to promote the interest of the church, and the salvation of the unconverted, we do hereby associate ourselves together as a church or congregation, to be known as the Salem Congregation of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. And in so doing, we pledge ourselves to support the Gospel and promote the means of grace as God in his providence may give us ability.

That we will endeavor to promote the peace and unity of the Church. That we will maintain Christian fellowship one with another and strive so to demean ourselves before the world as to give no cause of offence.

Dec. 14, 1873

At a meeting of the Session of Salem Congregation on the 14th day of December 1873 the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

Whereas our brother and fellow laborer L. W. Yates, for several years an efficient ruling elder in this congregation, has been called from his work on earth to his rest in heaven, and Whereas we are assured in the Holy Word that "All things work together for good to them that love God"; therefore

Resolved 1st That we bow in meek submission to this afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence

2nd That his consistent Christian walk, his unfaltering devotion to the interests of Christ's Kingdom, his advocacy and support of all enterprises whose object was to do good, in a social, moral or religious way, his charity abounding toward all, his earnest but unobtrusive piety, afford an example of the genuine Christian, which is worthy of imitation.

3rd That by the death of Brother Yates our congregation has lost a safe counsellor and the church a strong friend

4th That as the family -- the widow in the loss of her husband, and the children in the loss of their father, feel more keenly than others this sad bereavement, we tender them our sympathy and commend them to that God who doeth all things well.

5th That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the Banner of Peace for publication.
